Mallory K. Karn joined Robbins DiMonte in 2026 as a paralegal working in the Trusts & Estates practice group. Her work includes drafting estate planning documents such as wills, trusts, and powers of attorney. Mallory organizes client intake materials, creates files, and facilitates the execution and notarization of estate planning documents.

In addition to supporting Robbins DiMonte's Trusts & Estates practice, Mallory also assists with matters in the firm's Real Estate, Business Transactions, and Municipal Law practice groups. In these areas, she works with associates and partners on contract drafting, legal research, and municipal court prosecution. Mallory also helps to coordinate meetings and ensure smooth communication between clients and attorneys throughout the legal process.

Mallory takes pride in her strong work ethic and is a member of the National Association of Legal Assistants.
