Jeiel Noh draws on his education and legal background in assisting businesses and individuals in commercial related disputes and litigation, including real estate, creditors' rights, collections and bankruptcy, labor and employment, and trusts and estates matters in the state and federal courts.

Jeiel's background in business work and studies allows him to understand clients' efforts in shifting a company towards a positive direction, which permits him to perform efficiently and calmly during adverse situations. As such, Jeiel has extensive capability of analyzing and assessing information objectively.

Jeiel has experience in handling all aspects of litigation including investigations, pleadings, discovery, pre-trial matters, trial, and if appropriate, settlements. He further has experience in counseling clients by thoroughly conducting legal research and preparing memoranda related to compliance issues, risk assessment, or commercial disputes.

Attorney Noh was selected to the 2026 Illinois Rising Star list. Only 2.5% of all attorneys in each state are selected as Rising Stars honorees.
